ABOUT THE SEMINAR

Teachers are key players in maintaining and improving the quality of education and training systems. In the present era of technology, teacher's obligation is confined not only to acquire new knowledge and skills but to develop them continuously also. The education and professional development of every teacher needs to be seen as a lifelong task, and be structured and resourced accordingly. Professional development refers to activities to enhance professional career growth of teachers to foster teacher's growth. Professional development of teachers is to develop new insights into pedagogy and their own practices, and explore new or advanced understandings of contents and resources. To equip the teaching body with the skills and competences requires continuous professional development programmes. This seminar is a small step in this direction. The main objective of the seminar is to gather teachers, teacher educators, academicians, and scholars on single platform to deliberate and attain valuable and viable suggestions for professional development of teachers.
